

Motivation - Match up

Look at these four aspects of motivation from the previous exercise. Which of these four aspects of motivation does each statement below link to? More than one may be possible!

1.

Familiarise learners with the target language culture.

2.

Personalise the learning process.

3.

Promote learner autonomy.

4.

Make the language classes interesting.

a. You encourage learners to tell stories related to their life outside school in English.

b. You plan a speaking activity about British and American food.

c. You ask learners to review a few different mobile apps to help with vocabulary learning.

d. At the end of each lesson you encourage learners to write down five items of language to revise after school.

e. Throughout a lesson you try to use a variety of activity types.

f. You ask learners to do a reading activity about sport in the countries where people speak English.

g. You like to use authentic video and audio in your classes.

h. You like to get learners in your class to ask each other their opinions on the topics you are studying.
